

Don't let a tight economy stop us from making historic improvements to children's health care. Remember, even with the recent expansion of the Children's Health Insurance Program, 5 million children will still be uninsured. America needs national reform. Let's give all children the health care they deserve now.

Are children about to get squeezed out of health care reform?